

I specifically put my name on the do not call list because the calls are annoying, they call at all hours and won't take a "no" answer the first time. If one group is allowed to call then eventually they all will be allowed to call. If people wanted these calls then there wouldn't have been the need for the do not call lists. I like only getting the calls I want to get.